

I think that deregulating broadband service in a way that puts independent ISP's out of business, and leaves us with only the choice of a couple large telephone monopolies, would be very detrimental to consumers. Please don't do that!